

put down biography, the figure and the works of the book's author, later they have touched on bringing forth various versions and sections, properties, with the useful points seen in the book.

Introducing "Javāher Al-Tafsir"

Ĵavād 'Abbāsi

The book, written by Mullā Husayn Sabzwāri of the 9th century A.H. Ulemmas, is among the important interpretations that, added to interpreting the Quranic verses, contain subject-matters of Quranic sciences as well at which the essayist, here, has made a brief look.

Tārix-e-kešixkāna

Dr. Ašğar Dādbeh

The book, written by Najib Kāsāni (1063-1123 L.H.), contains notes or memories of the poet that have been put down in India, Iran and during talks to Sultan Jalāl al-din Akbar. The article clarifies the vitality, the poetic, literary and historical merits of the book.

Bahār and the World of Textology

Ĵebril Šādān

Though being considered as a great poet, Bahār had been an old hand in literary criticism, particularly in the field of proofreading the texts on which, regrettably, less research has been done. In this article, Bahār's trend of attention-toward the craft of criticizing and proofreading the texts, his efforts concerned and the status held by him in this regard has brought us up to the moment.

The Proofreading Style of Manuscripts

Dr. Šalāheddin Monnaĵed

In this treatise, the writer, that is a diligent Arab researcher, has designated the working bounds of proofreading and research with great care, also mentioning clearly all the points by exemplification a researcher needs to observe when proofreading.

Recognizing the Institute of Āle albayt (Ehyā al-turās)

Ali Rafi'ī 'Alā Marvdašti

The Institute came to be established to recognize and resuscitate the texts and importantly merited sources of the antecedent Ulemmas in various fields of the Islamic sciences. The essayist, owing to his fifteen-year-old touch with the Institute, has tried to present the aims, activities and the publications on its behalf.

Getting to know the Institute of Našr-e-Feherestgān

Ahmad Reza Rahimi Risā

The article deals with a presentation of the Institute along with its publications and activities and that it has been established with the aim of enhancing the research in three areas of the Islamic manuscripts, the bibliography of printed books and the biographies of Islamic scientists.

The Islamic Manuscripts in Bosnia & Herzegovina

Ĵebril Šādān

The destructive heart-rending war in Bosnia Herzegovina caused many of the cultural relics such as the manuscripts to be destroyed. This article reports the fate of these manuscripts in that country, picked and translated from the publication of "Alforqān".

Legacy of Philosophy

Dr. Mahmoud Yusofşāni

The book "Taqwim al-imān", an invaluable writing of Mir Mohammad Bāqer Dāmādi, so named as the Third Teacher whose bridesgroom and his salient student, Seyyed Ahmad Alavi gave an account of this book titled, "Kaşf al-haqā'eq". The essayist, here, is critical of this piece of writing.

A Look at the New Edition of "Al-qand fi Zekr Ulemma Samarqand"

Yusof Alhādi

In this article, the particulars of the newly Published book as titled above have been referred with its preference made over the other editions while introducing the book as well as the writer.

Discourse Innovations in "Qāmus Albahrayn"

Ali Owjabi

Qamus Albahrain is of unique versions of discourse and valved reserves of Ganj library in Pakistan, being compiled by Hamid Mufti in the eloquent Persian of 9th century A.H. He has been critical of confessions and analysis of views of the poets, the speakers in recluse and the Eşrāq as well as Maşša' philosophers. In spite of being impressed by Imam Faxr Rāzi's speculations, he has taken initiatives in the manner of expressing the issues and the reasonings of discourse.

A Glimpse at "Maşābiḥ Alqolub"

Mahmoud Nazari

The writer has dealt with a presentation of Maşābiḥ Alqolub -an account of some Hadiths of Payambar, the Messenger- meantime expressing that the translation and exposition of luminous Hadiths of the Saint Imams (a) are both necessary and important for the world community to get acquainted with the Islamic science and culture.

An Embrasure to Inner cultural Life of "Sadr Almote'alehin"

Ĵuyā Ĵahānbaxš

This is a worthy collection, containing the memos of Mullā Şadrā coupled with a list of his private library, has been written and printed by himself. The essayist, here, has made a delineation of it.

Tārix-e-Alfi, the Most Detailed Historical Book in the Babirian Time

Seyyed Ali AleDāvoud

Included in the days of Akbarşāh- the noteworthy ruler of the Gurkānid-as the most significant historical book is Tārix-e-Alfi that is written at his will and attempted by a group of scientists, particularly Mulla Ahmad Taqawi, the shia annalist, tracing back the history affiliated with Mohammad (s) Departure up to the time of Akbarşāh.

Tārix-e-Zowalqarnayn

Nāşer Afşārfar

By using Tarix-e-Mohammadi of Mohammad Taqi Sāravi, Mirzā Fazlullā Xāwari, the author of the book has in detail described the events associated with the Qajar clan turning up in the political activities up to the time when Aqā Mohammad Xān came to power, also ranging from his murder to Fathalişāh ascending the throne.

Samara Baḥlamyus and Xwāja Nasir al-dinTousis Account

Ĵalil Axawān ZanĴāni

Baḥlamyus, after writing the book of Arba', abstracted it for his pupil again calling it "Samara" or "Hundred Words" and Xwāja Naşir al-din Tousi expounded it too, explaining the astronomical rules with philosophical terms and statements.

Qotb Al-din Eşkewari's Maḥbub Alqolub

Dr. Seyyed Ebrāhimi DibāĴiy – Dr. Hamed Sedqi

In this article, the proofreaders of the book have

The Heritage Mirror Quarterly

First Year, Issues Nr. 3&4, Winter & Spring 1999

The objections of Šeïx Āqā Bozorg Tehrāni to "Kašf al-zonun

Seyyed Ḥasan Faṭemi

The article writer has orientated the slips posed by Sheik Aqā Bozorg on the book by referring to the book "Alzari'at Elā Taṣānif Al-sia.

New Horizons in the History of Shiism (part II)

Rasul Ĵa'fariyān

The essayist has made an effort to clarify the criteria of proving Shiism of people from the viewpoint of the late Abdulaziz Ṭabaṭabai the author of the great book of "Mo'jame A'lām al-šia.

Jami's Translation and Writing from Xamria ibn Fārez

Ĵuyā Ĵahānbaxš

One of the important rings of literary translation chain in the history of Persian Language and Literature is Jami's translation and writing from the Ode of bin Faraz. What is included in this article is the motive explication in emerging translation in the hands of Jami as well as a pure error-free text for this translation together with a criticism and survey.

The Intimate Songs

(Some Words on the Discourse and Thoughts of Ġāleb Dehlavi)

Dr. Mohammad Hasan Hā'eri

The Essayist has alluded to a number of Ġāleb Dehlavi's thoughts, his style and technique in poetry, believing that Ġāleb Dehlavi has paid an infinite service to the Persian literature by applying new blends.

Axlāq Nāšeri of Xwāja Našir and Tahzib Al- 'axlāq of meskawaih Rāzi

Dr. Abolqāsem Emāmi

The essay is in fact a comparison between Axlāq Nāšeri and Tahzib Al-axlāq, a number of translations of which have been referred.

Hekmat Xāqāniya

Dr. Golāmḥusayn Ebrāhimi Dināni

The book briefly touches on the philosophy of Maššā' containing Logic, Physical Sciences and Theology. It bears inside a very free-riding writing, innovations that come to be shown in the clarification and division of logical issues, views as well as special philosophical reasonings.

Kimiyāye Sa'ādat (Alchemy of prosperity)

Alireza Zakāvati Qaragozlu

The book, worked by Mirza Abutāleb Zanjāni, is a Persian translation of "Ṭahārat al-a'rāq" of Abuali Meskowiya Rāzi. It has been briefly presented in this article.

Rowzat al-anwār Abbāsi

Mohammad Rowšan

The book, about the statehood policy, has been written mainly by using verses and narrations. The article refers to the author and the features of the book.